

BOMB ON A BUTTRESS

Misty Story of an Attempt to Blow Up a London Bridge.

Is It a Scheme to Prevent Amnesty to Irish Prisoners?

More Matabeles in Sight—General News by Cable.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Globe to-day prints a story of an alleged attempt to blow up the Westminster Bridge. In view of the fact that the Globe is a Conservative organ and that strenuous attempts are being made to secure the release of the Irish political prisoners, there are not lacking persons who claim that the Globe's story should be taken cum grano salis.

According to the Globe, a waterman employed to attend the workmen who are employed on a temporary scaffold beneath the bridge found on Wednesday last a large parcel, wrapped in brown paper, on a ledge of the centre buttress. The parcel contained a conical iron bomb weighing about seven pounds. The waterman put the thing into a bucket of water and carried it to Scotland Yard.

Those who are in favor of releasing the Irish political prisoners sneer at the Globe's story. They say that even if the waterman did find a bomb beneath the bridge it was probably put there by persons interested in frustrating the attempts to secure amnesty for the prisoners.

MORE MATABELES IN SIGHT.

Details of the Killing of Capt. Burnett by a Prisoner.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A special despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Johannesburg says that 2,000 Matabeles were reported to be near Mtibisi, between Fort Tuli and Fort Victoria, yesterday.

Fort Tuli is over one hundred miles southeast of Bulawayo, King Lobengula's kraal, while Fort Victoria is about 140 miles due west of Bulawayo.

The despatch also gives the details of the killing of Capt. Edward Burnett, of the British South Africa Company's forces, whose death has already been announced in these despatches.

Capt. Burnett was a well-known Mashonaland pioneer. He, with the Hon. Maurice Gifford, was guarding two Matabele prisoners in a hut. One of the prisoners seized a loaded rifle belonging to a scout that had carelessly been left within his reach and shot Burnett dead. Mr. Gifford thereupon shot and killed both prisoners and set fire to the hut, cremating their bodies.

SALVAGE FROM THE MAASDAM.

British Steamer Winchester Gets an Award of $1,250.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The action brought in the Admiralty Court by the owners of the British steamer Winchester to recover salvage from the Dutch steamer Maasdam, has resulted in a judgment of $1,250 in favor of the plaintiff. Of this sum $800 goes to the owners of the Winchester, and the remainder to her captain and crew.

The Maasdam was bound from Rotterdam for New York, when, on the evening of Sept. 10, she encountered a hurricane and her shaft was broken. After she had battled with the waves for nearly three days, the British steamer Winchester, from Rotterdam for New York, was sighted and stood by for six hours until the Dutch steamer P. Coland, also from Rotterdam for New York, came up and took the Maasdam in tow for Plymouth.

THE RIFFIANS DISAPPEAR.

Work on the Spanish Forts at Melilla May Again Go On.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Spanish Embassy in this city has received the following despatch from the Government at Madrid:

"The destruction of the Riflian villages by the guns of the Spanish warships and the forts at Melilla, in addition to the severe punishment Gen. Macias inflicted upon the tribesmen on Oct. 31 has caused the Riffians to disappear from the vicinity of the forts. The firing has therefore stopped all along the line."

"The Spanish garrison now consists of 8,000 men. Everything leads to the hope that the plan of erecting forts can now be carried out."

The Stewardess Is Now Said to Have Been Saved.

HAVANA, Nov. 3.—A reporter to-day interviewed Capt. Hoffman, of the New York and Cuba Mail steamship City of Alexandria, which was burned off Colima, twenty-five miles from Havana, on Wednesday night.

Capt. Hoffman was chary of giving details of the disaster. He said that the fire on board the steamship originated from an explosion, the cause of which was unknown.

He added that there was only one passenger on board, a German named Leubinger, who in the reports received yesterday was said to have been drowned.

It was said this morning, however, that Herr Leubinger and the stewardess, Catharine Carter, who was also said to have been drowned, were both saved.

James E. Ward & Co., the agents of the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, made the following statement this morning concerning the burning at sea of the City of Alexandria:

"We called last evening for the names of those missing, and have this morning received the following despatch:

"Purser's body found. Stewardess safe. Cannot yet give names of those missing."

"According to a careful comparison of the names received with the crew list of the ship, all the officers, with the exception of the purser, are accounted for. There are fifteen names among the crew missing, but we have seven names that are so mutilated by the cable that we cannot be understood. This would leave a balance of eight unaccounted for."

"We have no further news of the disaster to give. The captain and crew will probably leave Havana to-morrow per steamer Seneca."

George W. Carey, of 413 Eighteenth street, had a son and stepson on board the vessel. He hung about the office of the Company anxious to learn their fate.

"My wife is almost crazed with anxiety," he said to an "Evening World" reporter. "They were two of the best boys that ever lived, and if they are lost it will kill my wife."

The two young men are George H. Carey, twenty-two years old, and William Travers, aged twenty-four. Travers's name does not appear among the crew, but Mr. Carey accounts for this by the fact that it was Travers's first trip on the steamship. Both Carey and Travers were waiters.

NO ONE WOULD PROSECUTE.

Alleged Assaults of Parkhurst Agents Discharged.

Capt. Wishart and Devery Would Not Make a Complaint.

The three men held yesterday by Police Justice Ryan, in the Essex Market Court, on an affidavit made by Police Captain Devery, of the Eleventh Precinct, charged with alleged riotous assault on several Parkhurst agents, were arraigned before Justice Ryan this morning.

Capt. Alexander Wishart, John H. Lemmon and Mark Wishart, detectives of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, were on hand at 10:30 o'clock, at which hour the examination was set down for. Counsel for defendants was promptly on hand, but no one appearing for the prosecution, the Court decided to wait awhile. At 11:30 o'clock the representatives of the District Attorney having failed to appear, counsel for the defendants asked for their discharge.

The prisoners were Lailor Putter, a Russian bartender, of 38 Forsyth street; Russel Kramer, Russian peddler, of 122 Forsyth street; and Hyman Sugar, a Russian saloon-keeper of 41 Essex street.

Capt. Alexander Wishart stepped to the bar and told Justice Ryan that the case was the hands of Supt. Byrnes, and that the Society never made, nor did it intend to make, any complaint.

Justice Ryan said that the men had been held on an affidavit of Capt. Devery on complaint of Supt. Byrnes, and that the Society never made, nor did it intend to make, any complaint.

Capt. Wishart said that Supt. Byrnes had sent a letter to the Executive Committee of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, urgently requesting that the Society furnish him with such information as they might have concerning the alleged assault. This was done, and the three accused identified by Parkhurst men yesterday in Essex Market Prison.

Capt. Devery's affidavit, on which the men were held, stated that he arrested the accused on complaint of Capt. Wishart, but the latter told Justice Ryan three or four times that he had not made any such complaint, and furnished Mr. Byrnes with the information he desired.

The Court asked if the police had any charge to prefer against Putter, Kramer and Sugar. Capt. Devery said that they had not.

Capt. Wishart again stated that neither he nor the society intended to make a complaint, and Justice Ryan thereupon discharged the three prisoners.

Savery's Company Had Funds for Emigrants.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 3.—J. C. Savery, whose failure was announced Wednesday, stated yesterday that of the $25,000 involved in the American Emigrant Company, of New York, representing outstanding certificates, not a dollar of it belonged to immigrants.

It belonged to people, generally Scandinavians, who have been in this country from fifteen to twenty-five years and had this money on deposit with the emigrant company, applying it from time to time to bring over their relatives still in the old country.

This company has been instrumental in bringing, so Mr. Savery said, 130,000 Scandinavians to this country.

Jenkins, officers of the Plankinton Bank. It was at first thought that Frederick T. Day was the only one of the Plankinton Bank officials who had been indicted. It cannot be learned for what the officers and directors of the bank have been indicted.

Defaulting Cashier Located.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 3.—The whereabouts of Phil M. Scheib is no longer a matter of doubt to the officers. The defaulting cashier is now located in Tennessee, whither two detectives have been sent after him. He, in company with a young man named Floyd, who "was" lived in Minneapolis, has purchased several houses, and they are said to be making an overland tour through portions of Tennessee little frequented. Scheib's arrest is expected to follow at an early date.
